

WILKINS'S SUICIDE STILL A MYSTERY

Investigation Fails to Disclose Any Reason for Clubman to End His Life.

HIS ACCOUNTS ALL RIGHT

His Young Bride of Six Months Is Heart-Broken—No Light on Tragedy.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
NORFOLK, VA., January 8.—The closest investigation has failed to develop any motive for the suicide of William R. Wilkins, manager of the Virginia Club, who committed suicide early this morning by shooting himself through the head.

His wife and friends declare that yesterday was in the best of humor, did not seem to be worried or disturbed by anything. He was in the club throughout the greater part of the day, and appeared all right to his friends. Several times he was met on the streets by acquaintances and neither by word or action showed that he contemplated anything rash, or that there was anything out of the ordinary.

While the books of the club are being audited, it is declared that this is the annual custom, and that neither the officers nor directors of the club have any cause to believe anything is wrong with the accounts. On the other hand, Treasurer Stewart and other officials of the club actively engaged in the management of its affairs declare that all of Wilkins's accounts are absolutely straight, in good order, and kept up-to-date. It is declared that he was not morose and careful in his business matters.

Letter from His Mother.
Those who reached the side of the young man a few minutes after he shot himself say that lying on the table in the first room was a letter from the mother of the young man, breathing love and devotion, and urging him to pay her a visit. When the letter was seen it was thought that it had been left by Mr. Wilkins, and would give a motive for the rash deed.

Mrs. Wilkins, a bride of a little over six months, is heart-broken over the tragic death of her husband. The remains will be forwarded to Moyock, N. C., the home of the young man, for interment. Mrs. Wilkins will attend the remains to their last resting place.

A Race at Sea.
In a race up the coast from New Orleans to Norfolk, where bunkers coal is to be loaded, the big tramp steamer Black Prince, loaded with cotton for Liverpool, arrived in Hampton Roads, an easy winner. Her rival, the Spanish Prince, another big tramp, loaded with cotton, is yet to be seen. They left New Orleans January 1st. The commander of the Black Prince announced head winds and high sea up the coast. She will clear to-morrow for Europe.

The other racer is expected to-morrow morning, and it is believed that she was put out of the race by the eight damage to machinery, sustained during the gale down the coast.

Want Increased Pensions.
At a meeting held last night, Stone-wall Camp, Confederate Veterans, of Portsmouth, went on record as favoring an increase of the pension granted old soldiers by the State of Virginia.

Resolutions were passed asking their representatives in the present session of the State Assembly to advocate and vote for such an increase. No amount was specified in these resolutions.

GAMBLING IN NORFOLK

Charge Made in Council That as Much as $100,000 Lost in Night

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
NORFOLK, VA., January 8.—The Common Council last night passed an ordinance, after a heated debate, in which Councilman J. S. Barron charged that there are gambling houses operating in Norfolk.

Here is a dainty habit—To keep the bowels clean. Do it just the same as you keep your skin clean. Not by severe applications, applied at rare intervals. But by gentle and regular efforts.

It pays immensely.

Many people dread physic. They think of castor oil, of salts, and cathartics. They shrink from the after-effects—gripping and weakness. So they postpone the dose until they are costive or bilious. Then they do the cleaning in a heroic way. That is all wrong.

Cascarets are a gentle laxative. They are just as effective as anything else, and more natural.

And they are pleasant—a candy. They are made to carry with you. Take one just as soon as you need it. You'll know.

The result is your bowels are always active. You always feel at your best. Try it. You'll never again go without them.

Cascarets are candy tablets. They are sold by all druggists, but never in bulk. Be sure to get the genuine, with CCC on every tablet. The price is 50 cents, 25 cents and 10 Cents per Box.

The Judge and the Council.
A letter to the Council and Board of Aldermen from Judge J. M. Mullen, of the Hustings Court, was read, in which the judge strongly urged immediate action in the matter of the much-needed repairs and improvements to the city jail, which report was submitted to the Council several months ago. The judge says:

"While there is no reason why, under these circumstances, the court should not issue a peremptory writ, it is reluctant to do so, but still trusts you will take immediate action looking to the carrying out of the recommendations of your committee, thereby avoiding this course on the part of the court. I submit with all deference there has been delay enough in this matter, and the public property will be compelled unless the suggestions herein contained are adopted, to resort to the powers conferred upon it by law to see to it that this duty is performed."

On motion of Mr. O. W. Mattox, the subject was referred to the Public Property Committee for the securing of plans and specifications for the needed improvements.

GIRL FALLS INTO WELL

Young Daughter of Hanover Farmer Has Miraculous Escape.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
MONTELENE, VA., January 8.—The eleven-year-old daughter of Late Harris, living near this place, made a remarkable escape from death by falling into a deep well. Although the fall was nearly 20 feet, the child was not seriously injured. Nor was she drowned.

The slipping of a bolt that held the wheel to the well caused the accident. The girl, with the bucket rope and wheel, fell from the frame work to the eight feet of water in the bottom of the well. On rising the girl caught in a recess in the well and thus kept her head above water.

A rescue party was sent together as soon as it was found that the child was in the well and she was soon drawn out. Beyond a few bruises she was not injured. And, strange to say, she was but little excited.

Mr. Gilliam, brother of the groom, was best man. The bride was tastefully gowned in a suit of brown broadcloth, hat to match, and carried a bouquet of bride's roses. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Gilliam boarded the train for Washington and other points. On their return they will make their home in Roanoke, Va.

NORFOLK, VA., January 8.—Jesse Jones & Son to-day filed a petition in the Federal court asking that the Virginia Transfer Company be declared bankrupt, alleging the insolvency of the company, and charging an act of bankruptcy in that the company recently made an assignment in the Law and Chancery Court of this city, no statement as to liabilities or assets.

THE VALUE OF CHARCOAL.

Few People Know How Useful It Is in Preserving Health and Beauty.

Cost Nothing To Try.

Nearly everybody knows that charcoal is the safest and most efficient disinfectant and purifier in nature, but few realize its value when taken into the human system for the same cleansing purpose.

Charcoal is a remedy that the more you take of it the better it is. It is not a drug at all, but simply absorbs the poisons and impurities always present in the stomach and intestines and carries them out of the system.

Charcoal sweetens the breath after smoking, drinking, or after eating onions, garlic, or other vegetables. Charcoal effectively cleans and improves the complexion. It whitens the teeth and further acts as a natural and eminently safe cathartic.

It absorbs the injurious gases which collect in the stomach and bowels; it disinfects the mouth and throat from the poison of catarrh and other diseases. All druggists sell charcoal in one form or another, but probably the best is the purest charcoal in nature, the Virginia Transfer Company's charcoal, which is composed of the finest powdered Willow charcoal, and other harmless antiseptics in tablet form or rather in the form of large round lozenges, the largest of charcoal being mixed with honey.

The daily use of these lozenges will keep the system in a healthy condition, and the general health better complexed, sweeter breath and clearer blood, and the beauty of it is that it does no harm, can be used by the most delicate, and on the contrary, great benefit.

A Buffalo physician, in speaking of the benefits of charcoal, says: "I advise Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges to all patients suffering from gas in stomach and bowels, and to clear the complexion and purify the breath, mouth and throat; I also believe the liver is greatly benefited by the daily use of them; they cost but twenty-five cents a box, and are sold by all druggists. I have seen a patent preparation, yet I believe I get more and better charcoal in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges than in any of the ordinary charcoal tablets."

NO FEAR OF SCANDAL SAYS ALVAH MARTIN

Exposition Receiver Says He Knows Money Appropriated Was Honestly Spent.

FOR TRAINING AND COALING

Hope That Government Will Buy Property for These Purposes. States Buying Sites.

[From Our Regular Correspondent.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., January 8.—The receivers of the Jamestown Exposition Company have not conferred with Secretary Cortelyou regarding the affairs of the company, as stated in dispatches sent out from here. Mr. Alvah Martin, president of the company, and one of the receivers, said this afternoon on his way to the steamer for Norfolk, that he had not seen Mr. Cortelyou, but had been here looking after some matters affecting the exposition company.

"I see some of the Northern papers report that there is a scandal about the purchase of the site of the exposition, and that the financial affairs of the company," said Mr. Martin. "I have no idea as to what is referred to. I am perfectly willing to allow the books of the company to be examined, either by a committee of Congress, or a committee of members of the Virginia Legislature. I am familiar with the affairs of the company; I know how the money was spent; both the government appropriations and the State appropriations. I am confident nothing will be shown that will reflect upon the honor, or honesty of the men responsible for the expenditures of the appropriations."

Mr. Martin called attention to the fact that the Federal appropriations were made outright, and that from a State on condition the company raised $500,000. Attorney-General Anderson said this condition was met.

Mr. Martin is inclined to view hopefully the prospect of the government purchasing the site of the exposition for a naval training station, and a coaling station. Secretary McCall has recommended that enough of the land for the latter purpose be purchased. Two or three of the States have purchased the sites on which their buildings stand, and Mr. Martin says he believes the majority of the States which erected buildings at the exposition will buy the land on which they were located. They have several months in which to execute their options.

The question of opening the exposition for several months next summer has not been decided upon. A committee from the board of governors will report upon the matter in about ten days, and then Congress will be asked to make a small appropriation to care for the government exhibits. It is believed the exposition will not open again.

and providing their exact purchase price can be proved.

Mr. Fowler Explains.

Mr. Fowler to-day made the following statement regarding the financial situation:

"We are to-day, with regard to our financial and currency practices, exactly where we were in 1890 with regard to our standard of values, and to decide now to make all kinds of bonds the basis of currency would be just as serious and fatal a mistake as to have adopted silver then as our standard of value. The time is opportune, the circumstances are auspicious and a careful investigation of all the facts and conditions justifies the conclusion that Congress can and should so legislate as to bring about these results:

"First—A uniform banking system. "Second—A uniform bank reserve, consisting of gold coin or its equivalent. "Third—A simple and scientific monetary system consisting of only three forms of currency—gold for our bank reserves; bank credit notes, redeemable in gold for the larger bills, and silver for the smaller bills and subsidiary coins.

"Fourth—A currency automatically adjusting itself to the demands of trade—never too great, never too small, but always just adequate to our requirements.

"Fifth—Equal and absolute protection to all depositors in national banks by placing in the United States Treasury a guaranty fund, which by January 1, 1909, ought to approximate $500,000,000.

SHOULD PROVIDE FOR MORE. Quarter of Billion of Emergency Currency Not Near Enough.

[From Our Regular Correspondent.]
WASHINGTON, D. C., January 8.—Few Democratic members, or Republicans for that matter, will consent to be quoted on the Aldrich currency bill, providing for the issue of $200,000,000 of emergency currency. It is stated by State, municipal, county and railway bonds, but there is a very pronounced sentiment that the sum is not large enough.

Senator Bailey said to-day the bill should provide for $1,000,000,000 of such currency, instead of $250,000,000. He does not oppose the principle of the bill, but he believes the provision that notes may be issued against railway securities is a mistake. He is a very strong sentiment in both parties in the Senate and House that the bill should provide for a much larger issue of emergency currency.

HUNTING ACCIDENT.
Young Colored Man Fatally Shot in Cumberland County.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
CARTERSVILLE, VA., January 8.—Sam Cunningham, a young colored man, was fatally shot in the woods about five miles from this place.

Cunningham was hunting with a party of negro boys, and it is said received his death wound as they were in the act of shooting a deer. Those who were in the party say that the fatal shot came from the gun of one Jake Parls. The coroner was notified, but was unable to reach the place to-day, so a guard has been placed over the body pending the inquest, which will be held to-morrow morning. The dead boy was well thought of in the neighborhood.

Charles City Jaegers.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
CHARLES CITY, VA., January 8.—The regular meeting of the Board of Supervisors was held at the courthouse Monday, and Judge D. G. Tyler attended. The question of caring for the county poor received special attention. Several plans for improving the system were discussed, among others, that it would be cheaper to abolish the poorhouse and board the paupers among their friends and relatives. That was not done, however, and Judge Tyler appointed Mr. John H. Waddell to succeed himself as superintendent of the poorhouse.

The demand upon the institution is far in excess of the capacity.
